The highway to the road-house might also be termed a route of evil.

As transgressors increase we need more paved roads to make their way hard.

It is becoming harder for girls to get by with stockings that are not silk all the way.

That Pennsylvania primary caused a suspicion that Truman H. Newberry was a piker.

Our idea of a fine job for a go-getter is that of secretary of the Herrin Chamber of Commerce.

The careful mother will hardly permit her daughter to wear a bathing suit as scanty as her own.

Citizens of Three Rivers, Quebec, highly complimented a local official by throwing perfectly good eggs at him.

A Chicago man, fined $25 for beating his wife, said someone had told him that the amusement tax had been repealed.

Many who admit that they were foolish once upon a time, would resent the suggestion that they are still that way.

Bill Batchelor says that the modern girl doesn't think much of a young fellow who tries to kiss her—and fails.

What has become of the old-fashioned farmer, whose only expected government relief was the annual assortment of seeds from his congressman.

Danish women want a common title, analogous to that of Mister for men, which shall not disclose whether they are married or unmarried. Recently there was an agitation to compel married men to wear wedding rings. In these days of equal rights there is no telling what may happen.

The warden of a Berlin prison stood near by while Fritz Gilbert, safe-cracker, kissed his wife good-by, but didn't notice that Gilbert transferred from his mouth to that of his wife a small roll of paper. On the paper was written directions for his confederates, who thereby aided in his escape.

LARGEST MADE LAKE.

Covering an area of 40,000 acres, with a shore line more than 700 miles long, the largest artificial lake in the world is now being filled with water, of which 530 billion gallons will be impounded.

This great reservoir is located at Cherokee Gluffs, on the Tallapoosa river, in Alabama, where a great dam 150 feet high and containing 300,000 cubic yards of concrete, has been built in connection with one of the projects of the Alabama Power Company.

The power plant will be placed in commission soon, with an initial capacity of 135,000 horsepower, to be ultimately increased to 180,000 horsepower.

Although the power to be derived from this huge dam is the primary object of its construction, other benefits will accrue to the public also. It is said by agricultural experts that the creation of this vast body of water will tend to make a large section of the adjacent country frost-proof, and consequently favorable for fruit raising. By regulating the flow of the river it will be a great aid to navigation for many pleasure resorts, and when stocked with fish will add to the food supply, as well as affording an attraction for sportsmen.

Such mighty works as this are of the highest type of conservation enterprises, harnessing hitherto wasted power for the use of man and developing a new source of energy, and well being.

"BEAUTIFUL BAY ST. LOUIS."

This is the major title of a most attractive illustrated folder of eight double pages issued and officially released this week by the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, under whose initiative and auspices the work was evolved and executed.

Perhaps this is the finest and most compelling piece of advertising ever issued for Bay St. Louis and vicinity, a conception of intelligence, handled by the designer, J. J. Wolf, and under the guiding hand of the committee on publication: C. B. Fisher, chairman; C. Greer Moore, E. W. Drackett, with H. S. Weston, president, ex-officio member.

The folder is a veritable illustration of the phrase "multum in parvo." The title page is done in colors of gold and orange, serving as a background for the silhouette of a galley ship that sailed the seas in the days of pirates bold. Sea birds, animated "white wings" of the sea, give life to the scene and adds that decorative depth which is appealing to the eye of the lover of art. Opening the booklet, we find the full title, "Beautiful Bay St. Louis and Waveland Shores," topped with a three-color picture in decorative form of the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

In conformity with the cover, romance of Old Spain, history and latter-day comment and fact and figures of today, comprise the main story of the booklet. The idea of the booklet is to charm and lure with facts as well. For instance, one paragraph says: "Bay St. Louis and Waveland are both essentially cities of homes. With matchless climate, the best drinking water in the world, educational, recreational and railroad facilities—this section stands supreme."

Here's a breath of springtime: "In the early springtime the air is redolent with intriguing fragrance of peach and orange blossoms, and for the year 'round is balmy with the subtle perfume of the rose, the lilac, jasmine, honeysuckle and magnolia."

The booklet carries in group forms about twenty-five half-tone views of Bay St. Louis, dwellings, public buildings and landscape scenes. And maps of this section, in color, that are both attractive and most comprehensive. The value of these will prove inestimable.

Copy of this book may be had free by writing the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mention The Echo, it will identify you.

The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, Bay St. Louis' youngest civic organization, is to be congratulated on its success; its initiative and the splendid results achieved by its activity. Bay St. Louis at no time has had similar advertisement. Twenty thousand copies were printed, and it is planned for the fall to possibly get a reprint of one hundred thousand copies.

In closing this booklet says: "It is a wonderful country, this Mississippi Gulf Coast; a picture, charming and compelling, that proves irresistible. Bay St. Louis and Waveland and the surrounding country; Hancock county—invite you. It is the section of a thousand charms. A place for your home. To spend your future, where life is lived at its best. In full and to the point, the Land of the Heart's Desire; a land where fondest dreams come true. The Land of Opportunity. Why wait for the morrow—the day that never comes? Today is yours."

"There is a tide in the affairs of men, Which, taken at the flood, leads to fortune."

CANADA MAY CELEBRATE.

Next year marks the sixtieth anniversary of the Dominion of Canada, and plans are being discussed with a view to declaring 1927 a "diamond jubilee year." This seems particularly fitting in view of the fact that the fiftieth anniversary in 1917 was little observed, on account of the war.

After the cession of Canada by France to Great Britain, after the inter-colonial wars, much friction occurred between the French and English elements of the population, in which many American loyalists who settled in Canada after the Revolutionary War, took a hand. Upper and Lower Canada were separated in 1791, but discontent on the part of both continued, and following insurrections in both they were reunited in 1841, with little better results.

Finally, in 1867, the union of the various colonies under a federal form of government was consummated, including Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The Northwest Territories were included in 1870, and Manitoba was admitted as a province the same year, followed by British Columbia, in 1871, Prince Edward's Island in 1873, Alberta and Saskatchewan in 1905. Newfoundland and its dependency, Labrador, have never come into the Dominion of Canada.

By reason of their vast expanse of territory and relatively sparse settlement, the several Canadian provinces have never been brought as closely together in thought and action as would be doubt be desirable for the unity of the Dominion. The proposed diamond jubilee year should do much to bring them closer together, and to bring them closer to the people of the United States.

A DAY OF DAYS.

There will possibly be no day in the constructive and progressive history of the city of Bay St. Louis and of Hancock county to equal the one which will mark the driving of the first piling for the building of the Bay St. Louis bi-county bridge, connecting the counties of Harrison and Hancock in a great bond of meaning and usefulness to every man, woman and child of the two communities, to say nothing of the millions who will cross in access from one point to another of this great country of ours.

On this day, soon to be named, there will be a great ceremony; men who will speak; men who will say something; who will carry a great message to the people, telling them of the bridge as a harbinger of good news and great things. It will not be "red letter day," but a day that will live in memory and will last. Red letter days are days to anticipate and then to remember for the time being. This will be a "day of days," and safe to say thousands of people from not only two counties but from along the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast and the interior of South Mississippi will journey hither for the celebration and join in the festivities and attractions to be announced later. Men and women will be conspicuous for their absence. To be present will identify you.

There will possibly be twenty-five thousand people here for the day. It will be possibly necessary to rope off much of Front street, from the head of Main street to the head of Uman avenue, the latter the terminus of the proposed bridge, in order people may have room to move to and fro at will. They will line the beach shore by thousands and witness the eventful ceremony of driving the first piling.

It is planned, in addition to the bridge building ceremony, to have a great program for the day in celebration of the event. There will be much to attract, much to hear and much to see. Harrison county will join with Hancock county. Like "Hands across the sea," both counties united in a bond indissolubly, will carry on the work of development and working for a Greater Mississippi Gulf Coast, strive triumphantly. We people of the sea coast live in a great era for this section. Not in a century has taken place the activities of this section covering a period of practically two years. The next five years, possibly less, the Coast will glory in the radiance of greater and better things. We have entered upon the threshold of a new era. The building of the Bay St. Louis bridge is a milestone in that wonderful journey we are traveling.

"The day of days" will possibly occur in about six weeks. Both Boards of Supervisors of Hancock and Harrison, local civic organizations, the Mississippi Coast Club and others will participate. It will be an active scene, linking the Spanish Trail, from California to Florida. The good and faithful padres of Spain, in their long trail over this section and the great Southwest, will come back on this day to tread in spirit and to live joyously again over the path that was so beset with thorns and those days, but strewn today with roses. The road was a hard one then. It had its vicissitudes. Not without lesson, however, for the disciplined men of God made it a great act of humility and mortification of flesh, to travel and build their great Missions that mark Santa Barbara and the other points along the Pacific Coast. But times change. We live in a rapid age. Our civilization of today demands much, and the building and completion of the Bay St. Louis bridge will be none the less.

MORE LIGHT, MORE EGGS.

Stories of increased egg production by hens subjected to artificial light to lengthen their "laying day" frequently have been published, but many persons have no doubt considered the idea in the nature of a joke. But serious experiments, with data carefully recorded, have conclusively demonstrated the fact that hens aroused before daylight, in lighted coops, will produce more eggs than those "working" only during the natural day.

A test covering two months, held on the farm of E. L. Putze, near Richmond, Va., was most interesting. His flock of 300 White Leghorn hens was divided into two equal groups of 150 hens each, one group being subjected to artificial light and the other being without lights. In the lighted pen, an alarm clock operating a knife switch turned on the lights at 5 o'clock in the morning during the months of February and March. As a result, the hens in the lighted pen laid 5,528 eggs during the two months while those in the unlighted pen laid only 4,356.

The value of the additional 1,572 eggs produced through lighting was $22.40. The expense for electricity used in lighting was only 96 cents. Thus the actual added profit for the flock of 150 hens, resulting from early morning lighting of their pen was $21.44.

In view of this and other similar experiments of the same nature, it seems likely that poultrymen everywhere will find that early morning lighting of their flocks will result in a considerable increase in egg production.

THE CREATIVE SPIRIT IN AMERICA.

The United States has been "accused" of being the richest nation on earth. Some foreign comment has been to the effect that money is all we care for. This is a mistaken viewpoint. The reason this nation is not only rich, but great, is simple—we all work over here. Not only do we work, but we make everything else work for us. We enjoy producing something useful.

Here in the United States we use forty times as much mechanical power as human power. In China, Russia and India they use from two to four times as much human power as mechanical. That is the reason America is rich and that is the reason we are high and opportunity great in this nation. High production per man tells the story of our high wages, short hours and modern conveniences in every home. If the rest of the world would try to follow our example, there would be more happiness and less cause for wars and discord.

LIGHTNING AND RADIO.

Lightning has no especial affinity for radio antennae, and radio operators need have no special fear during thunderstorms, say engineers of the Underwriters' Laboratories, who have conducted an amazing series of tests in radio safety.

"Lightning is hard to check," says one of the engineers. But more men are lightning struck out under trees than in any other way; according to unofficial statistics. One night, indeed, a target at the end of a properly insulated radio set; but no more so than at the keyboard of a piano, or with knife and fork in hand at the dinner table, or patting the keys of a typewriter.

David Sarnoff, vice president of the Radio Corporation of America, predicts that moving-talking pictures may soon be shown in every home by radio. He says the only problem is speeding up transmission of still pictures, and that research engineers are hard at work perfecting the speed-up attachments.

ROTARY CLUB LEADER IN MISSISSIPPI DIES.

Denver Post, June 16.
Ernest J. Leonard, president of the Bay St. Louis, Miss., Rotary Club, succumbed early Wednesday to an acute heart attack, according to advices received in Denver Thursday by Arthur A. Scaddo, secretary of the club. Mr. Leonard was 60 years old.

Illness prevented his attendance at the Rotary convention here. Mr. Leonard had the proprietor of Leonard's Department Store, of New Orleans. His summer home was in Bay St. Louis, where he was active in civic circles and an ardent disciple of Rotary.

The Society of Veterans of Foreign Wars suggests the burial of an unknown Union soldier and an unknown Confederate soldier in the shadow of Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, to symbolize a reunited nation.

WAVELAND COUPLE CELEBRATE

Children and Friends From New Orleans Surprise Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schilling on Occasion of Forty-Ninth Wedding Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schilling, of New Orleans, who are making their permanent home in Waveland, on Saturday and Sunday celebrated their forty-ninth wedding celebration. Saturday, June 19th, was the actual anniversary day, but Mr. and Mrs. Adam Schilling's children and grandchildren and a number of the friends of the splendorous home town came out Sunday in one gathering and on Sunday again the day was observed.

The friends were very thoughtful. Not wishing to impose additional attention, they carried over with them all that was necessary for the splendid dinner and refreshment plentifully. The visit was intended as a surprise and as such turned out, thus making the celebration on Sunday all the more interesting. The chief surprise of the day proved at the dinner, when a wedding cake of unusual size was brought out, from the kitchen and behold! a cake with 49 candles.

This reunion on so happy an occasion proved a source of much delight and genuine satisfaction to Mr. and Mrs. Schilling. They were the recipients of a number of substantial attentions and messages of felicitation, and the wish and hopes was expressed throughout the celebration that the good couple would celebrate their golden anniversary. The wish was also expressed that all present would be present for the event.

LOCAL BASEBALL.

BAY ST. LOUIS DEFEATS VETS.

Stingarees Win First Game of Season—Break Winning Streak of the Vet Team—Schwartz Gets Homer.

After shooting forth victory after victory in the recent past, the Stingarees, the speedy team of ball players known as the "Vets" went up against the newly organized Bay St. Louis aggregation last Sunday and returned home a crest-fallen men, for they were handed a dose of stinging defeat to the tune of 7 to 4 on the permanent score board.

Although out by 12 to 8, the Stingarees fought to the front in the third inning and were never in danger thereafter; they put the finishing freeze to the afternoon's exhibition in the fifth and sixth periods. For a newly organized team, the locals played a bang-up game of the old pastime and everybody got their money's worth.

Four Rock-a-Chaws of the '26 team were of uniform in the field: Cotton Collier, Blaise Schwartz, Leroy Bontemps. The others were recruited locally, with the exception of Holmes, the Alabama boy, who was imported from Birmingham. Thue, expected from Gulfport, did not materialize.

Cotton Collier did the twirling for the Stingarees; he was touched up for four hits in the initial inning, which netted the Vets three runs, after that the husky pupil of Comma-gere got warmed up and kept the balance of the hits well scattered. The Vets managed to keep the ball in the sixth, but that was occasioned by an error which permitted Gordon to register on first; he stole second and tallied on Cammett's single to right garden.

The Vets have the reputation of being some of the best batters in the p. g. burg, and showed their stuff in the first spasm, but as soon as Cotton's twisters got to breaking it was curtains for the swatters.

A pretty piece of confidence was pulled off in the sixth inning, and it was good baseball playing; too: Cammett had perched on third, and Bruhn't single; Bruhn, thinking it was easy to take second, as the catcher wouldn't dare throw there, went down to the bag, but he had reckoned without Blaise's arm, for that husky backstop slammed the pill down to the keyhole station and caught Mr. Bruhn dead easy; Cammett glared to his bag, for he recognized good pegging when he saw it and knew it was folly to try to register in the face of it all.

SCHWARTZ DRIVES 'CIRCUIT'.

A game wouldn't be complete without Marchie Schwartz putting his trade mark on a ball. He did that very thing in the sixth inning, with one man on. Leroy Bontemps had singled through short and took second on a bad throw. Blaise had failed to connect and then Schwartz ambled up; the Sheik of Shout caught the second on a right center; Leroy saw the slaughter and took his time in; the ball was returned, but on a bum throw, and Marchie tallied the first homer for the Stingarees.

HOW THE RUNS WERE MADE.

Schrober led off, but Cotton whiffed him. Tabby singled past second and Moreau was donated a base on balls. Croall got a double into deep left center, scoring Tabby. Cammett hoisted his hump for a two-bagger and scored Moreau and Croall, but was out himself trying to stretch the hit into a triple. Gordon hit safe to center, but Vego forced him for the third out at second.

The Stingarees came in to bat under the handicap of three runs. After Jim Collier went down, short to first, Leroy Bontemps laced out a double beauty to left. Blaise popped to first. Schwartz drove a long fly to right center and both Moreau and Vego made for it. Vego dropping the pill and Leroy scored. Schwartz tallied on Holmes' drive through second.

The locals registered again in the third, with two more runs on one hit, a couple of errors and two fine sacrifice flies. Leroy popped over the plate, but Cammett dropped the ball. Leroy stole second and went to third on a bad throw. Blaise got free transportation. Schwartz peeled off a long fly to right and Leroy scored on the throw in; Blaise landed on third and he tallied when Holmes pulled off another long sacrifice fly to left center.

The Stingarees scored again in the fifth, with two more; Leroy singled through short (that boy's got a habit) and Schwartz (same habit) poled the homer that gave him a Pullman berth back to the rubber.

The Vets tallied one in the sixth; after Cammett had K. O'ed, Gordon got safe on an error and stole second, scoring on Cammett's long single to right center.

The local outfit equaled the stunt in their half, when Moreau dropped a long fly from Laddner's bat. Cotton's sacrifice fly to right brought Russell in.

Vets — 300 001 000—4 12. 3. B. St. L.—203 021 009—7 8 9. Batteries: Bruhn and Cammett, Collier and Blaise. Umpire: Tudury.

Poplarville Next Sunday. Arrangements have been completed with Manager Orr of the Poplarville team for a "ripping" game at Rock-a-Chaw Park for Sunday, June 27th.

Quite a big delegation of rooters have signified their intention of motoring to the Bay for the game and a plant crowd is expected. The Poplarville team are a specially set and a very good game is looked for.

The Stingarees are hard at practice every day and by Sunday will be in shape to meet most any team of semi-pros.

BIGGEST REGATTA EXPECTED.

The big event of the season will take place on July 10th, when the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will pull off their annual regatta at this port. The officers and members are straining every sinew in order to make this the best event of its kind on record, and already there are a world of craft owners who have signified their anxiety to take part in the races.

Year after year the Bay St. Louis regatta grows more popular, and it is noted in addition to new craft entered by local owners there are any number of entries from away making their initial entrance.

No organization than the Bay-Waveland Club contributes in a measure more to the social side and civic welfare of Bay St. Louis. That there is every evidence and indication of the regatta's unprecedented success is indeed gratifying to those who love their home town, fond of Bay St. Louis and a friend to every interest and phase of the city.

July 10th will be a big day for Bay St. Louis and New Orleans, as the Mississippi Gulf Coast and our friends from over in Mobile and Pensacola will help to put it over "big."

PICAYUNE TO VOTE ON $225,000 BONDS.

Picayune, Miss., June 23.—The Board of Mayor and Aldermen has voted unanimously to submit to the people of Picayune the matter of a bond issue of $225,000 for installing a sewerage and waterworks system. This bond issue will guarantee the building of a city tank, a pump house and machinery, nine and one-half miles of water mains with an equal amount of sewer mains, and an up-to-date disposal plant to purify the sewerage before pouring it in Hobolochito creek.

The city election to decide upon the issuance of these bonds has been called for the latter part of July.

TO RETURN DAVIS' FAVORITE CHAIR TO BEAUVOIR HOME.

Beauvoir, June 23.—Mrs. Helen M. Tartt, superintendent of the Jefferson Davis Soldiers' Home, is in receipt of a letter from I. H. Miller, of New Orleans, stating that he wishes to present the Old Soldiers' Home at Beauvoir with a rocking chair which was the property of President Jefferson Davis. This is the chair that was said to be Mr. Davis' favorite. In the book written by Mrs. Davis on the subject of the Civil War is a picture of President Davis sitting in this chair. Mr. Miller purchased this historic relic at a sale of household goods at Beauvoir 30 years ago when the last home of President Davis at Beauvoir was dismantled. Mrs. Tartt has accepted this kind offer and will place the rocking chair in the parlor of the Jefferson Davis mansion, from which it was removed many years ago.

The BULL'S EYE.

Editor and General Manager: WILL ROGERS.

Meeting the "Bull" Durham Smoker Face to Face.

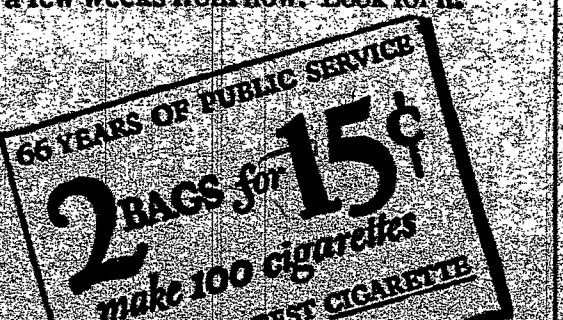

I am just making, as the Politician says, "A swing around the Circle," to see what was going on in "Real America." I had been in New York so long, I was getting a kind of a Sub-way "Slurp" on things. I was becoming as narrow as a Metropolitan Newspaper Editorial Writer. My eyesight was getting so poor I couldn't see beyond the Hudson River, and my mind wouldn't function farther away than Albany, N. Y.

I knew that New York was "amusing the world," but I wanted to meet the fellow who was "feeding it." I am kinder oddly constituted. You can cut off my amusement, but if my food stops you are going to have an argument on your hands. I, as Editor and Proprietor of the Bull's Eye, wanted to meet not only the readers, but the consumer of THIS Wonderful Product of OURS. (The American Tobacco Company and me.) Well, I wish you could see the type of Men they were. Big fine healthy upstanding He-Men. They were not the little Anemics that has to tap his Cigarettes on the box before he can smoke it. They were our Producers of our Necessities of Life. When I saw the type of He-Men smoking "Bull" Durham, it almost made me cry, that I wasn't a smoker myself.

There Rogers.
